I. Description

Acupuncture is one of the oldest, most commonly used medical procedures in the world. Originating in China more than 2,000 years ago, acupuncture became better known in the United States in the 1970’s. The general theory of acupuncture is based on the premise that there are patterns of energy flow (Qi) throughout the body which are essential for health. Disruptions of this flow are believed to be responsible for disease. Acupuncture may correct imbalances of flow at identifiable points close to the skin. Findings from basic research have begun to make clear the mechanisms of action of acupuncture, including the release of opioids and other peptides in the central nervous system and the periphery and changes in neuroendocrine function. Although research suggests some potential areas for the use of acupuncture, the quality or quantity of the research evidence is not sufficient to provide definite evidence of effectiveness at this time.

Note: Acupuncture is often excluded under many benefit plans. Refer to member handbook to determine benefit terms and availability.

II. Criteria: CWQI: HCS-0002

Appendix 2 – Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services (CMS)

Medicare coverage for outpatient (Part B) drugs is outlined in the Medicare Benefit Policy Manual (Pub. 100-2), Chapter 15, §50 Drugs and Biologicals. In addition, National Coverage Determination (NCD) and Local Coverage Determinations (LCDs) may exist and compliance with these policies is required where applicable. They can be found at: http://www.cms.gov/medicare-coverage-database/search/advanced-search.aspx. Additional indications may be covered at the discretion of the health plan.
